Yes, there does need to be large scale organization if anything will be sustained. The military is at least 60% pro Trump (see Pew research poll), and that number is probably low because people don't like to 'out themselves' as Trump supporters in polls...Did you see the Army vs. Navy game this year? The crowd went nuts for Trump. I trust a natural out pouring of approval like that more than polls and surveys which can be easily manipulated.

The IRA begs to differ. Maybe grow a pair and fight for your country instead of coming up with excuses.

Well yeah, the little guy is audited more often because it's easier for the dummies at the IRS to strong arm them, but if half the country stopped paying taxes automatical with each paycheck, that could get their attention.

I knew a girl when I was younger whose father did this. He went to federal prison.

LOL I am willing. Funny because I am already a slave. Further enslavement does not scare me.

You and I both know that 20 million people arent going to stop paying taxes. Don't act like they can't make your life miserable if they wanted to.
